FORWARD

Another of Wally's dreams has come true. Our knight in helmet and boots, as a crusader of old, is leading his beloved Caravanners into another new land filled with new adventure. And what planning and work and anxiety it has caused! Not only just at Caravan Headquarters, but reaching throughout our country and across the seas.

First, came your big decision - "shall we go?" Then began the preparations, including tons of correspondence, how and where to get passports, visas, shots - which ones and how many, selecting your truck, packing your Airstream - and how on earth were you ever able to part with all the things you just had to take but didn't have room for? Then came the chore of filling in the stacks of papers necessary to get the documents for this safari. And will you ever forget those two dozen "horrible" pictures that were so all-important....the anxious moments and the crackling of nerves as time drew near and your passport, visas, insurance papers and carnets had not arrived and how you lay awake at night wondering if they would reach you in time to meet your departure date?

Oh, how in the world did you ever make it? But you did. You are now in Capetown and almost ready to start this wonderful trek that will take you the entire length of Africa, and you will be in the Holy Land for Christmas, as Wally says, "parked under the stars of Bethlehem".

We, at home, sincerely hope that this will be the most wonderful and memorable experience of your lives. May God bless you through all your travels. May you be remindful each day of the great privilege that is yours. You will have the opportunity to live among people of many lands-you will learn their ways and they yours, and through this relationship, perhaps play a small part in bringing together the peoples of this wonderful world, so that someday we will all live together in unity and peace.

DEDICATION

This roster is dedicated to Wally Byam, his Caravan staff, his Caravanners, Airstream Trailers, Inc., officials and friends in both the United States and in Africa, in appreciation of the work, time and effort that has been given so freely and tirelessly to make this African Safari a success.

Without the help of each and everyone who played such an important part in the planning and executing of plans, this safari would not have been possible.

Our sincere thanks go to each one for his contribution in making this caravan the ultimate in rich experiences and exciting adventures. We hope that this first Wally Byam Caravan to Africa will be among your most cherished memories.
